

recycle - my foot!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

Posted by cp211159 - 2006/12/05 22:54

---

I was working in my front garden today when the dustmen/dustcart and the re-cycling men/recycling lorry turned up for the usual collection of household waste, I was surprised to see them turn up at the same time - one behind the other. But not as surprised, or should I say shocked, to see what happened next - the dustmen seemed to be "helping" the recycling men - and I saw the dustmen emptying the recycle bins into the dustbins and subsequently into the dustcart!!!!!!!!!!!!!! When I challenged them they scoffed and said I was imagining things - every one of the guys laughed at me "nervously" and one in particular said "prove it" well of course I couldn't "prove it" because the waste that goes into the dustcart becomes compressed by the hydraulic ram etc.... I am absolutely positive of what I saw - I am so infuriated that I take time and trouble and care to re-cycle every thing that I possibly can and that these guys can conduct themselves in this fashion. I am going to bring this up at the next Parish Council Meeting - but in the meantime I would urge everyone in Little Hadham (and elsewhere) to keep a watchful eye on these "jokers" - I am going to have my camera at the ready in two weeks time so that indeed when I need to I will be able to "prove it" when I make my report to the authorities. Please let me know of any such "sightings" if and when they occur in your area. Many thanks Carmela Piccolo.

=====